

MEET GWEN YVETTE

Gwen Yvette is an independent R&B/Soul singer and songwriter from Coastal South Carolina. An artist with extraordinary talent and vocal range, the Harlem-born, St. Helena Island product first picked up a microphone at the tender age of three and performed at community events. Gwen first entered the music scene as a professional singer in the early 1990's, performing with a popular local band and was later invited to tour with notable musician Roy C. In 2013, the songstress had a successful run on Fox's national television series, "The X Factor".

In 2015, Gwen Yvette launched her solo career and in February 2016, she released her debut single titled, "So In Love" feat Sekhem Re. This release propelled Gwen into the spotlight, garnering national media recognition, performance opportunities nationwide and a rising star status. That year, she also won Female R&B Artist of the Year at the South Carolina Music Awards. In June of 2017, Gwen released her long-awaited album titled, "Love, Dreams & Visions", a project that exemplifies her love of music. Soulstress, Gwen Yvette performs with her band, TC Soul (named for her beloved Father) throughout the south eastern US regularly.

Gwen Yvette counts it all joy to have been blessed with the opportunities to open for outstanding and legendary musicians, to include King George, Big Daddy Kane, Shirley Murdock, Freddie Jackson, Keith Sweat, Kem, Regina Belle, Sir Jeffrey Osborne, Patti LaBelle, The Mighty O'Jays and The legend that is Frankie Beverly & Maze!

Gwen Yvette is one of the more sought-after singers throughout South Carolina and beyond, as is evident from her booking in the UK last spring as a headliner on the International Women's Day Tour, I Am Woman UK 2020 (pre pandemic), as well as The Original Gullah Festival (upon return following the pandemic) 2022.

As of 2023, Gwen Yvette has made a successful entrance into US radio airplay with her southern soul friendly debut "Country SWAGG" which has been playing on major markets in South Carolina and across the southeast region. She was also featured with veterans Sean Dolby & Joe Nice on single "Joyous" which also made its way to radio airplay. Gwen Yvette followed up with her single "Work It Out" which was very well received by southern soul DJs across the southeast and beyond.

Gwen Yvette lives to inspire others to pursue their dreams, no matter what!

BOOKING

Gwen Yvette's experience as an entertainer and national recording makes her the ideal choice for quality entertainment in a variety of settings. Her exceptional music arrangements coupled with her engaging stage presence provides the perfect entertainment for venues, festivals, receptions and corporate events. Gwen's shows are designed to take the audience on a wonderful musical journey. They range from intimate performances for a captive audience to a repertoire of "oldies" funk grooves, Southern Soul and originals that are sure to get the crowd up dancing. Her tribute show to Aretha Franklin is one that will leave you in awe. Close your eyes as you listen and you are sure to feel the essence of "The Queen Of Soul".

Booking: (854) 213-0403 soulstress@gwenyvette.com